Privacy Statement

I acknowledge and recognise the importance and value of your privacy. This Privacy Notice has been written to explain what personal data will be retained, how it will be used and for what purposes.

I am committed to collecting and using such data fairly and in accordance with the requirements of the GDPR.

What is collected

The following information may be retained:

- Client's full name and company name
- Company contact information including email and postal address

How your information is used

This information is required for the following reasons:

- Internal client record

With your consent I may from time to time wish to send promotional emails about new products, special offers or other important news relevant to the nature of your business.

I will not sell, distribute or lease your personal information to third parties unless I have your permission or have been required by law to do so.

Your Data, Your Rights

You have the right to object to how I process your personal information and you have the right to be forgotten. You also have the right to access, correct, restrict or even delete the personal information I retain. In addition, you have a right to make a complaint to myself and to the data protection regulator.

Links to other websites

From time to time I may include links to other websites of interest or relevant to my portfolio. If you choose to leave my website by clicking on a third party link, you should note that I do not have any control over the suggested web link. These websites are not governed by this privacy statement, therefore I am not responsible for the protection and privacy of any information which you provide whilst visiting these third party sites. You should check the privacy statement applicable to each individual website.

Updates to my Privacy Policy

This Privacy Notice was updated in May 2018 and may be updated periodically, without prior notice to you to reflect any changes in the way I retain personal information. Should I feel it necessary to update my Privacy Statement I will publish a notice on relevant websites to notify you of any significant changes, and the date those changes came into effect. There may be circumstances where your consent will be required.
